CORRESPONDENT MISSING.

American Writer, Who Went on Tour With View of Entering Port Arthur, Not Heard From.

(By Associated Press.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 13.—A cable from Che. Foo, June 12, says that the Japanese stationers are being entertained for the safety of Mr. Hector Fuller, the Indianapolis News staff war correspondent, who left recently to make his third attempt to enter Port Arthur. He was last seen Friday, by Stanley Washburn, staff correspondent of the Chicago News, with whom he had arranged to communicate his movements.

He was leaving the Mau Tao Islands, forty-five miles south of Port Arthur. It is believed he has effected an entrance into Port Arthur, or has been captured or drowned. Secretary of State Hay and the Russian government have been notified.

CHE. FOO, June 13, 7 P. M.—Chinese say that the Japanese stationers are being reloaded all of their provisions and ammunition for transportation with the intention apparently of moving them southward down the peninsula. The Japanese fleet, they also say, is cruising daily between Tallenwan and Kien Chou.

TOGO REPORTS.

Japanese Admiral Tells of Movements and Manoeuvres of His Fleet Since June 6th.

(By Associated Press.)
TOKIO, June 13, 7 P. M.—A long report has been received here from Admiral Togo, in which he covers the operations of the fleet since June 6th, and repeats his former account of the bombardment of the west coast on the Liao-Tung Peninsula. Continuing, the Admiral says that the captain of a foreign vessel that left Yagow on Wednesday, June 8th, reports that the Japanese fleet was in the vicinity of Kailung, south of New Chwang, caused Russian forces to the number of three thousand, with twenty guns, to evacuate Yen Kow. Two men taken prisoners by the Japanese while on their way into port, report that the Russian fleet was in the vicinity of Kailung, south of New Chwang, caused Russian forces to the number of three thousand, with twenty guns, to evacuate Yen Kow. Two men taken prisoners by the Japanese while on their way into port, report that the Russian fleet was in the vicinity of Kailung, south of New Chwang, caused Russian forces to the number of three thousand, with twenty guns, to evacuate Yen Kow.

On Wednesday, June 8th, a detachment of the fleet bombarded and dispersed two companies of Russian troops, who were on Kailung Point. On Friday another detachment of the fleet bombarded the enemy for two hours near Ying Chih Tsia and Tsan Tia Kao, inflicting much damage upon them.

Three Submarines at Port Arthur.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, June 13.—A special to the Daily News from Che. Foo says: According to the captain of one of the Japanese cruisers blockading Port Arthur, the Russian cruiser Novik has been out of the harbor on several occasions hunting Japanese destroyers. The captain thought that the obstructions at the mouth of the harbor prevented the exit of the larger Russian vessels.

are bringing the matter to a satisfactory conclusion.

The difference between Mr. Underwood and the Abbey trustees arises as to the amount due the Abbey Committee from the amount collected by Mr. Underwood. Mr. Underwood was removed as chairman two years ago, and was succeeded by Dr. J. William Jones, of Richmond.

The historical committee, of which the scholarly General Clement A. Evans, of Georgia, is chairman, will submit a report to the committee on the South. The report says, only by persistent effort on the part of the South.

The report of the committee on Treatment of Prisoners During the War, also made up by the Historical Committee, will be presented. It shows that in all instances humane treatment was given Federal prisoners. A large amount of data on this subject has been collected, and it is probable that the committee will continue its investigations another year, when a final report will be made.

General Stephen D. Lee, commander-in-chief of the veterans, to-day received a letter from General Joseph Wheeler, who is now at Sandy Hook, New Jersey, expressing his regret at not being able to attend the Nashville reunion. General Wheeler said he had hoped to lend his voice in an effort to urge special exertion by the veterans in hunting up war reisters and records to be printed as permanent archives.

The general says further: "The record of the Confederate soldier for superb chivalry is without a parallel, and in years to come future generations will value beyond price this evidence that an ancestor was one of the knightly heroes who fought in the great battles of 1861 and 1865."

"After years of effort, the law" was enacted, which secured the printing and preservation of these records, and the work can only be completed by the operation and effort of Confederates who must search for and learn these precious documents.

"There is another matter, my dear general, which is very near my heart. About 200,000 of our men are disabled by wounds or infirmities caused by explosions, and no longer able to procure the comforts, and in many cases, the necessities of life, and during the next two or three years the wants of these old soldiers will be greater than they have been in former years, and from that time it would be constantly on the decrease. I wish, therefore, to urge every veteran to use his influence with the law-making power of his State to secure sufficient appropriation for this sacred purpose. The beneficiaries of such legislation will soon pass to the great beyond, and our opportunities to add to their comfort will then be gone."

STEPHEN D. LEE WILL BE COM-MANDED BY THE CONVENTION.

The convention will be called to order at noon to-morrow in the Tabernacle by General G. W. Gordon, of Memphis, as department commander, and after several welcoming speeches the retiring commander-in-chief, Lieutenant General Stephen D. Lee, will deliver his address. On Wednesday there will be another veterans session, and on Thursday the veterans will have their parade.

It seems to be the general impression that General Lee will be elected unanimously to succeed General John B. Gordon. General Lee is in no sense a candidate, but the popularity with the rank and file of the veterans is unbounded, and his election seems a foregone conclusion.

For the first time since its organization the Sons of Veterans will meet with the veterans to-morrow. The Sons have all the privileges of the floor and a voice in the proceedings. The veterans hope, by this close relation, to perpetuate their organization and put the Sons in a position to acquire the proper spirit. The veterans will hold their regular convention during the day.

AS TO NEXT MEETING PLACE. The friends of Louisville, Baltimore and New Orleans are already in the field for the next reunion. The movement for a permanent meeting place has its friends as well as opponents, and it is not thought that the matter will crystallize into action at this year's reunion. Anyway, Nashville is after it, and will to-morrow ask the veterans to hold their annual meetings here. Texas wants New Orleans to have the reunion every other year, and the veterans, headed by General W. S. Cabell, commander of the Trans-Mississippi Department, who arrived to-morrow, will press a motion to this effect on the floor of the convention to-morrow. Texas favors New Orleans, but does not wish that city selected for a permanent meeting place to the exclusion of all others.

FREE BRIDGE IS IN SIGHT

Manchester Council, assuming one-half the liability for the proposed issue of $250,000 of 3 1/2 per cent. fifty-year bridge bonds.

Mr. Woodward made a very clear statement of the case, and submitted estimates from two contracting concerns desiring the work.

The Propositions.

One was from the Concrete Steel Engineering Company, of New York, and their estimate was as follows:

For a twenty-three foot steel girder bridge, reinforced with concrete, $105,884. A twenty-nine foot bridge of the same kind, complete, was priced at $107,024.

The bid of the American Bridge Company was $108,446 for a twenty-three foot bridge, and $118,444 for one twenty-nine foot wide.

Mr. Woodward contended that the income figured on would be sufficient to meet the interest on the bonds and to create a sinking fund, which would take up the entire issue at maturity. But he laid down the further principle that it would be a good investment for the cities if they had to pay the entire sum without any income whatever.

Option Secured.

He said an option until September 1st had been secured on the old bridge for $127,500, and this sum was to be paid in bonds at par.

Mr. H. W. Wood followed on the same line, and Messrs. Perdue and Owen, of the Manchester company, spoke enthusiastically for the proposition.

Mr. W. A. Chestwood and Mr. L. C. Younger, of this city, favored the scheme and the former said he would be glad to see two free bridges constructed.

When all the speeches had been made Mayor Allen raised the point which was promptly overruled by the chairman, that the subcommittee had no authority to act in the matter.

Favorable Action.

Major Allen finally moved to refer all the papers to the city engineer for report, and Mr. Pollard moved, as a substitute, that the subcommittee report all the data to the full committee, along with a resolution declaring that "we deem it wise, expedient and in keeping with sound public policy that the bridge be built." The substitute of Mr. Pollard was adopted, and the committee adjourned.
